

Sinclair
Broadcasting's
decision to force
their stations to air an anti-Kerry
documentary days
before the election
is a clear example
of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies
control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line
and less of what we need for our democracy. Instead of something
produced at "News Central" far away,
it's more important
that we see real people from our own communities and more
substantive news
about issues that matter.

Sinclair's actions
show why we need to strengthen media
ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license
renewal process
needs to involve
more than a returned postcard.

I am horrified and disgusted by this decision, this is a flagrant attempt to influence the election outcome and is not ANY part of responsible
reporting and smacks
of little but contempt and arrogance.

Thank you.
